at North Quincy High School

presents the

Manet

We dedicate this book to the ideal to which so many dedicated their lives ~ to a peaceful, progressive future.

Foreword

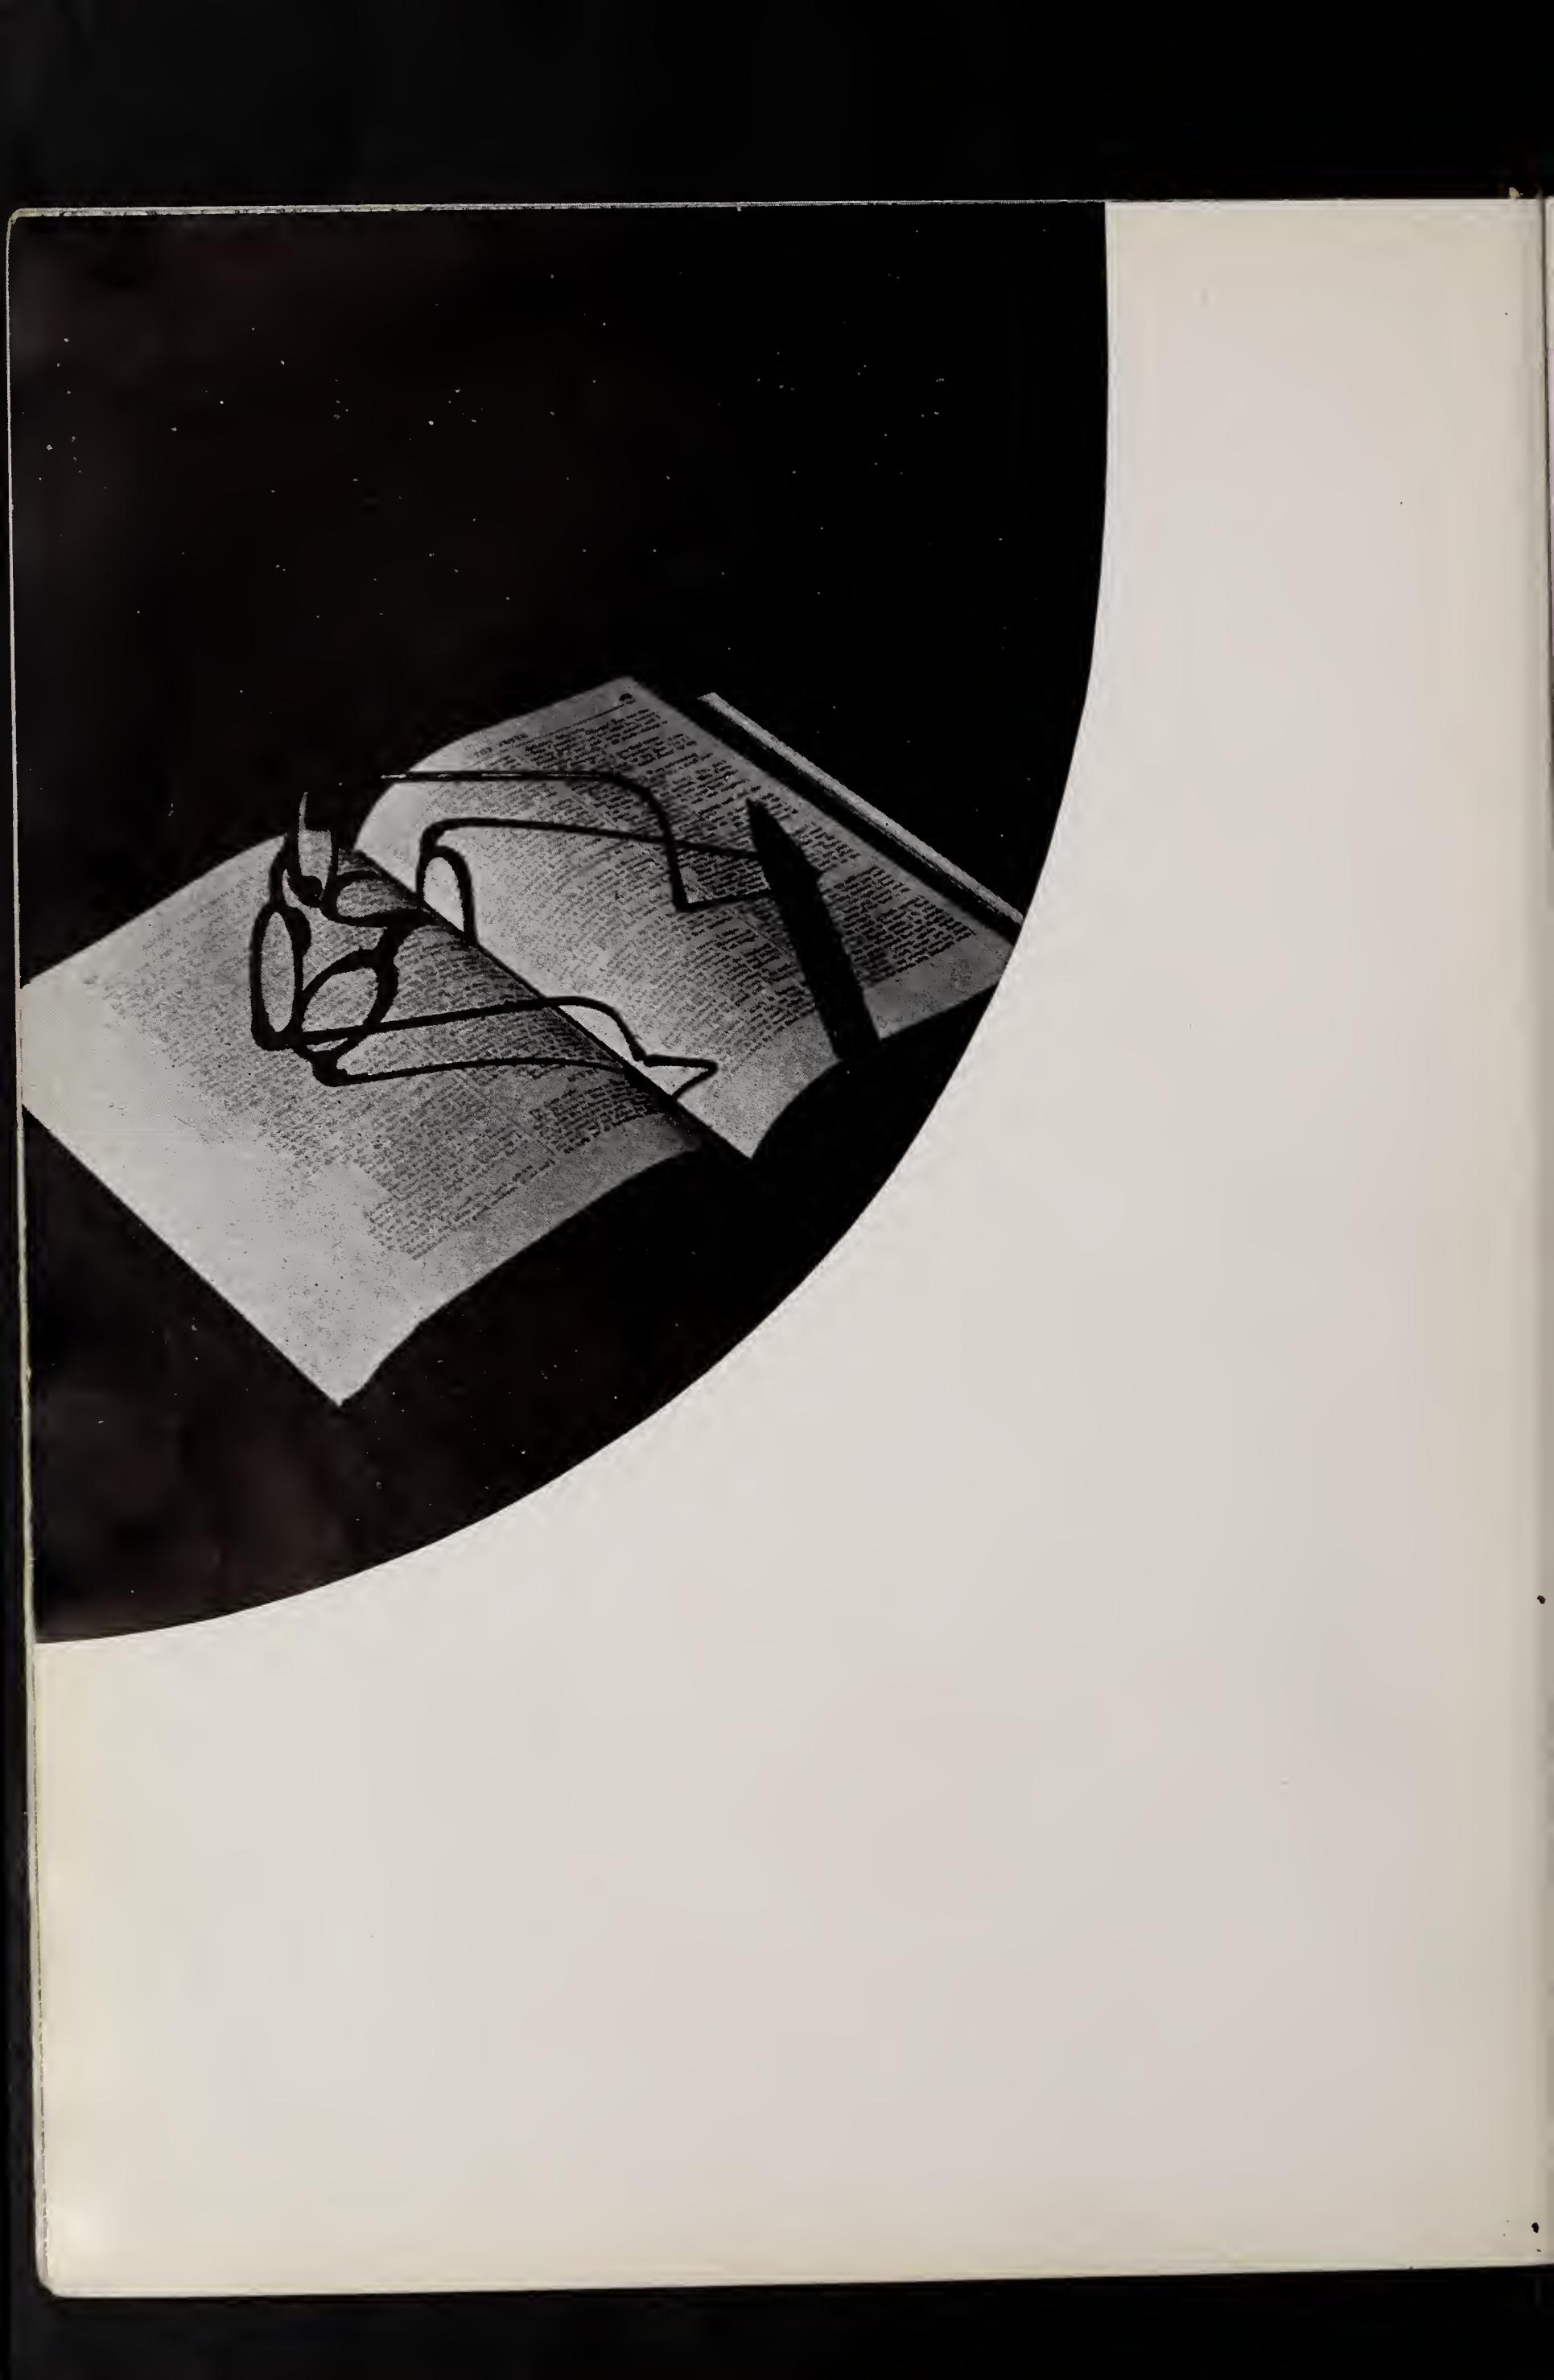

It is a common and natural characteristic of Americans that each thinks his school a bit better than other schools and his class a shade superior to other classes. This Manet is a permanent record of the activities of what to us, the class of 1946, will always be the best school and best class.

Opportunities are unlimited. May we realize this fact as we accept the great challenge that the post-war years are presenting. Already we have felt many of the significant changes, especially in the realization that education is continuous and most essential to the prosperity and well being of our democratic society. North Quincy High School has extended a cordial welcome to our many returning veterans and are happy to know that they are successfully seeking, through further training and preparation, opportunities that lie ahead.

The beacon light of that great luminary, the North Star, always points the way and is symbolic of great achievements. The very word "North" is full of meaning to all of us. May we, and especially the members of this class, be conscious of its import and accept it as a faithful guide in our journey through life.

Our entire staff joins in best wishes to all.

"Look at them all in that group picture. Why do they need all those people just to get a yearbook out?"

That's a fair question; the very page you're reading gives a fair answer. First the page was an idea, a title, a vague plan. Then a distinct layout took shape in the minds and finally on the drawing boards of Art Editor Ken Humphrey and his staff. Other people had to redraw and measure the finished layout for the printer.

At the same time, this article was being written by a member of the editorial staff. After being passed by Assistant Editor, Carolyn McTear, it was typed by the commercial department, headed by Mary Marella. Business Manager Donald MacLeod and Advertising Manager Stuart Shaw were meanwhile making sure that, through their staffs, enough advertising and subscription money came into pay for the printed page. Judy Stoyle as Photo Editor saw to it that the page had suitable formal and candid shots, while the Sports Editor Bob Gallagher was arranging for the write-ups and layouts of his section. Finally, just before its journey to the printer, the dummy was rechecked by Editor-in-Chief John Alexander, who had supervised its progress from the beginning.

The Manet Staff wishes to thank Miss Schields, the faculty adviser, Mr. Smoyer, Miss Morrison, Miss Sullivan, Miss Gormley, Mr. Cowie, and all the members of the faculty for their greatly appreciated aid in the making of this and all other pages of the Manet for 1946.

Traffic Squad

If you have ever heard, "Go around the other way," shouted at you or—more likely—felt an arm thrust out to lead you in the right direction, you grinned cheerfully. It was just a traffic officer doing his duty, trying to keep orderly traffic in the corridors.

Since the squad's policy is to rotate members from floor to floor, traffic officers have an opportunity to observe all types of students. On the first two floors are young students comparatively new to the building. The passing crowd includes clusters of chattering boys and girls as well as lone students who, looking neither right nor left, are earnestly endeavoring to reach class on time. On the other hand, the upper floors are frequented by older students, who are veterans at between-class procedure. Here traffic is more evenly distributed with little congestion, possibly because senior students don't care whether they're late for class or not.

The squad is under the direction of the Senior Student Council. It consists of thirty seniors and ten juniors, who are elected by teachers. Floor captains this year are Joan Meade, first and second floors; Donald MacLeod, third floor; and Allan Tate, fourth floor.

To all at North the Senior Student Council means service—service not only to the school, but also to the community and nation. The twenty-one council members are elected representatives of the student body and each serves the school in the same way that a congressman serves his district.

Service to the community and nation was displayed by the council's handling of the Community Fund Drive, the Red Cross Drive, the Victory Loan Drive, and the March of Dimes. All four drives proved highly successful; the results of the Victory Loan Drive, which proved to be one of the biggest tasks ever undertaken by the council, were particularly gratifying.

Service to the school was displayed by the council's organization and direction of the traffic squad, its improvement of cafeteria conditions, and its supervision of yearly elections.

Other activities sponsored by this year's Student Council were sports rallies, assembly programs, and a square dance, the first of its kind at North. Whatever the activity—great or small—it is undertaken with a zealous determination to make all the council's projects a success.

Mr. Hermon Noyes is the faculty adviser for the group. This year's officers were Robert Chase, president; Jilda Bernardi, vice-president; John Alexander, treasurer; and Mary Barry, secretary.

Student Secretarial Staff

"Future secretaries at work!" would be an apt slogan for the Student Secretarial Staff. This organization is of immeasurable value both to the student and to the teacher. Designed to serve a twofold purpose, it not only gives commercial students an opportunity to apply to actual practice procedures learned in the classroom, but it also serves the school by supplying secretarial and clerical assistance to the faculty and to the school office.

These future secretaries take dictation from teachers, type class lists and forms for counselors, make duplicate copies of tests on the mimeograph and ditto machines, and prepare the school absentee list each day for the office. While performing these duties students are rated by their teachers on efficiency, dependability, initiative, and cooperation. These ratings are taken into consideration by counselors when recommendations for employment are made.

The staff planned several assemblies during the year at which films on secretarial and clerical procedure were shown.

Because of these movies, her class lessons, and her actual practice, a member of the secretarial staff may be confident when she goes to work after graduation that she knows her duties thoroughly.

North Quincy High School and the North Quincy High School Band: they belong together. An essential feature of school life would be missing if the band weren't on hand at football games to play "Rah for North Quincy" for the hoarse rooters after every touchdown. The band also plays at assemblies and sports rallies, and marches in civic parades.

Members of the band volunteer their services to contribute to the pleasure of the entire school. It is their purpose, under the guidance of Mrs. Whitney, to develop a fine musical organization through encouraging high standards of rehearsal and performance.

The climax of a year of rehearsing, of giving up at least one homeroom period a week, and of faithful attendance at all public performances, is the traditional Spring Concert. All of North's musical organizations take part in the concert, but it is the band which plays the feature role. Both the band and the student body eagerly await this event because it is the best opportunity both for displaying musical talent and for enjoying it.

Bert Jansson is president of this year's band, which is maintaining the traditional high standards of musical performance.

Band

Glee Club

The Glee Club offers a fine cultural opportunity for all students with musical tastes to develop their interests and abilities. Under the direction of Mrs. Whitney, this group has presented programs of high caliber, choral tributes to the results of long hours of practice and constant teamwork.

The efforts of these boys and girls do not go unrewarded, for their special broadcasts on Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day, the Christmas Assembly Program, and the Memorial Day exercises are received with pleasure and enjoyment by teachers and students alike.

The climax of the Glee Club's year is its participation in the annual Spring Concert given by all of our musical organizations. This concert, itself a herald of spring, is as welcome as the first songbirds and the first flowers.

The Glee Club's officers are as follows:

*President, LAVERNE McCULLEY
Vice-President, DOROTHY HEAMAN
Secretary-Treasurer, MARGUERITE PETTIPET*

Music fills the air—the beautiful music of North Quincy High School's orchestra. Any boy or girl who plays an instrument may join the orchestra and form a part of this unit of pleasant harmony. The purpose of the organization is to provide an opportunity for pupils of grades seven through twelve to work together in a field where their special talents may be encouraged and developed. Children in elementary schools are anxiously awaiting the time when they may go to North and join the orchestra; seniors are thankful that they have been given a chance to play to their heart's content in the orchestra.

Music fills the air at commencement exercises and also at the senior class play. At Christmas, the time of serenity and peacefulness, the orchestra's music is most important. Carols and Christmas music are played at assemblies, contributing beauty to the program and heightening the Christmas spirit. The Spring Concert provides the school with still another opportunity to hear the fine music of the North Quincy High School orchestra.

Music fills the air at North; as long as the orchestra continues, the music will be beautiful and harmonious.

Orchestra

Social Studies Laboratory staff

All individual and most classroom use of books relating to social studies is dependent on the efficiency of the Social Studies Laboratory Staff. Serving as a "library staff" in the Social Studies Laboratory, members check books in and out to both classrooms and individual students, put cards in books, and perform any other duties necessary to keep the books circulating.

The volunteer members are approved by counselors and homeroom teachers, and then placed on a schedule which puts them on duty either in a study or homeroom period, or before or after school.

Since the staff is a service organization, its social activities are limited. Usually there is a party for members and their mothers during the year and a picnic or a trip to the Pops Concert near the year's end.

The Social Studies Laboratory Staff should be commended for its extremely essential service to the school. Under the direction of Miss Pratt, it has made possible the circulation for general use of many worthwhile reference books on several social studies subjects.

Sleigh rides, splash parties, bowling parties, and movies are only a small part of the fun offered by the Tri-Hi-Y, an active and worthwhile organization for girls. Through these various activities, and through bringing together Hi-Tri-Y and Hi-Y members from other parts of the city, the club hopes to extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian life.

Besides its regular social activities, this year North's Tri-Hi-Y, together with the Quincy High organization, entertained the Sixth Annual Massachusetts and Rhode Island Older Girls and Tri-Hi-Y Conference. This opportunity to meet others and gain friends was appreciated by all members.

The club has also served the school by helping with the clothing drive and other worthwhile causes. Service to the school and the community rounds out the Tri-Hi-Y's fine, extensive programs. Directed by Mr. Hardy and Miss McCoy, the club elected officers as follows:

*President, AUDREY WRIGHT
Vice President, BETTY LOU DONNELLY
Secretary, JOAN MEADE
Treasurer, JOYCE ANGELL*

Tri-Hi-Y

Hi-Y

"It's always fair weather when good fellows get together." Once every two weeks these good fellows of North's Hi-Y gather at the Quincy Y. M. C. A. for an evening of instruction, entertainment, and fun. The meetings are presided over by Charley Hadlock, President; assisted by Ralph Kent, Vice President; Eddie Sweeney, Secretary; and William Glover, Treasurer.

After movies or a talk by Mr. Hardy, the group's director, the boys finish the evening by bowling or playing ping pong. Plans were made to invite speakers from other cities later in the year. Other special events arranged by the club were joint meetings with the Tri-Hi-Y, boxing matches, and hockey games.

By emphasizing fine, clean sportsmanship the Hi-Y hopes to mold young men of high school age into upright Christian citizens.

Room 424 is one of the few classrooms in the building where one can find living creatures other than human beings looking on at classes. Mice, fish, snails, turtles, and even bats are a few of the inhabitants of the biology laboratory. Caring for these strange guests are Miss Shields and the North Quincy Biology Club.

Inspired by a wish to further the interests of biological science in future doctors, nurses, and biologists, or in mere potential dabblers in the study, the club meets once a week to conduct interesting experiments. Dissections of starfish, frogs, and birds have been performed by skilled student hands.

Earlier in the year the club traveled to Woods Hole to collect specimens of marine life. Besides various field trips, the group made a journey to view an electronic microscope. Another club activity is caring for and adding to its museum, started this year.

Arthur Green is the Biology Club's only officer.

Biology Club

Library Staff

Whenever you look into the library—during any study period or before and after school, you'll see a member of the library staff at work. Her job is to help Miss Sherman by checking out books, sorting the mail, and competently dealing with the confused student who persists in writing his homeroom number for the number of his study room on library permit slips. Of course, library staff membership has its lighter moments, too. Every year there is an informal party to help new members become acquainted with each other and with older members of the staff. Later on the girls give a more formal tea for their mothers, who learn how the library functions and enjoy some form of entertainment. The library staff, incidentally, has the most attractive room in the school in which to hold its social affairs.

This year our library staff entertained other girls from school libraries all over the South Shore. This South Shore Library Round Table was held so that librarians and staff members from all South Shore towns could meet each other and exchange ideas.

The library staff, under the able direction of Miss Sherman, is one of our most active and useful organizations.

1-2-3, kick! 1-2-3, kick! to the rhythm of South America's favorite dance the Club Caballero congas in for its second Manet interview. This year's record of the three-year-old club's activities show that it has achieved its goal of combining proficiency in Spanish with interest in our neighbors to the south. Whether it's at a Hallowe'en party at Mr. Walsh's Hough's Neck cottage or a tea at the Pan American Cultural Center, the members practice the Spanish tongue and learn to appreciate the South Americans, their customs, and their tantalizing dance music.

Perhaps the formation of a Conversation Group has provided the best way for the interested to actually speak the language. Once a week ten to fifteen members descend on willing hostesses with printed vocabularies in hand to spend an evening learning fundamental Spanish, with a slight accent over the "fun."

Enjoyment and improvement, however, are not the only purposes of the club; because of last year's brilliant performance members were invited to the Quincy U.S.O. for a repeat entertainment exhibition. Once again servicemen cheered the dazzling tambourine routine, the intricate Mexican Hat Dance, and an imitation of Seville's beloved bull fights.

Many votes of thanks for a successful year go to Senor Walsh and President Donald MacLeod, Vice-president Hazel Olsen, Secretary Shirley Marsh, and Treasurer Eugene Margozzi.

Girls Sports

Many afternoons after school the gym is filled with lively, laughing girls who thoroughly enjoy an opportunity for relaxation and recreation after a day of concentrating on textbooks. Badminton and ring tennis in the fall, basketball in the winter, and outdoor games in the spring are a few of the activities in which these girls participate.

Although there are no interscholastic games, spirited competition is provided by team games like baseball and softball, and by tournaments in ping-pong and basketball.

An outstanding event in girls' sports this year was the public gym demonstration, supervised, as are all girls sports activities, by Miss McCoy. The varied program included figure marching, flag drill, folk dancing, ball and jump-rope drills, and typical gym class exercises.

A visit to the gym on a weekday afternoon would really convince those who do not participate in girls' sports that North offers a broad, worthwhile, and enjoyable program.

To a certain group of seniors the Prom meant more than the last dance of the year or the "first night Dad let me use the car"; it meant planning decorations, arranging for a band, sending invitations, appointing ushers from the Junior Class, and a million similar headaches delegated to the Prom Committee.

On their study-rounded shoulders rested the responsibility of making May third a night to remember. For months they tramped North's corridors with frenzied expressions on their faces and streamers of crepe paper around their necks.

But their efforts were rewarded when they saw your amazed pleasure as you crossed the threshold of the armory ballroom. The fragrance of corsages permeated the hall; the Grand March was impressive. Just one glance at the faces above swirling skirts and smooth tuxedoes was enough to assure the committee that the Prom was a success!

Thanks go to Bob Murphy, Chairman; Marjorie Flint, Audrey Gunn, Ken Humphrey, Paul Kennedy, Cy Kennedy, LaVerne McCully, Bob O'Neil, Pat Quirk, Bill Reid, Mavis Studley, Edward Sweeney, Audrey Wright and Shirley Marsh.

Prom Committee

Bowling

"Nine down on two balls! Not bad. No—wait! the pin's still wobbling! It's going—it's—yes! it's gone over! I've got a spare!"

Thus do excited young voices float through the doors of the Norfolk Bowling Alleys every Tuesday afternoon. The North Quincy Bowling Club, earnest in its purpose of cultivating skill in an extra-curricular sport which may be enjoyed long after graduation, meets right at the alleys every week. Intramural competition is keen, although special attention is paid to the development of individual speed and form.

The Club's officers—Miss Vock, director; Dick Brown, president; and Dorothy Flint, secretary-treasurer—have planned an outing for the group at the end of the year. Another project of the club is to obtain a bowling pin or emblem for qualified members. Former members, however, need no emblem to remind them of happy times with the bowling club; their skill at the sport is always a reminder to them and proof to others that the club's purpose is fulfilled.

For a preview of future voters and statesmen in action, you should sit in on one of the Pro and Con Discussion Club's bi-weekly meetings. By openly discussing current political and social problems, the club is achieving one of education's main aims: to make students intelligent citizens. Members will not soon forget the memorable discussion on "Is Russia a democracy?", or the hot arguments following reports on "Should there be a grade thirteen?", or the indignant reaction to arguments for and against "The right of eighteen-year-olds to vote." These discussions provided an opportunity for energetic students to develop and mature their opinions.

It was found that rational opinions can't be formed without information, so it was not uncommon to see members burrowing through the Readers' Guide for magazine articles or the editorial section of the evening paper for a new argument. Occasionally the more avidly interested members attended outside forums in order to profit by methods used in those groups.

With the aid of the well read mediator Miss Flavin and the dynamic president Barbara Phillips, meetings proved to be entertaining and satisfying to the inner urge of all seniors to be intelligent adults.

The other officers were Patricia Morley, vice president; Mary Daminski, secretary; and William Reilly, treasurer.

Pro & Con Club

Senior Class

A student's senior year in high school is usually the one he remembers longest. North Quincy's class of 1946 have good reason to remember their last year for the rest of their lives.

The first major activity was the "Corn Stalk," an informal dance; a similar dance was held in the spring. Between these two affairs the class officers were busy bringing about changes and improvements in traditional activities. A new class jeweler and ring design, the change of the color of caps and gowns to maroon and white, and the class banquet held the night before graduation were a few of the things planned by our original and energetic officers, whose names follow: Allan Tate, president; Peggy Keith, vice-president; Donald Welch, treasurer; Marilyn Shute, secretary.

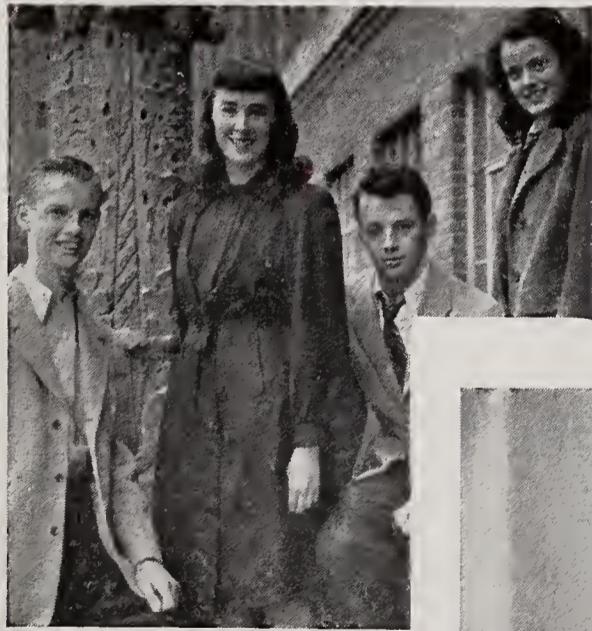

When the Senior Prom date was set for May instead of February, as it was during the war, members of the class of 1946 agreed that their last year was truly the best.

The Junior Class officers say that their purpose is "to make the junior year a memorable one." Hard work and original ideas are fulfilling this purpose. There was a successful Christmas dance, "The Holly Hop," which was enjoyed by both juniors and seniors. Plans were made for a semi-formal dance later in the year. An outstanding accomplishment of this year's Junior Class was the purchase of class rings in the middle of the junior year. Many other classes had tried to bring about this innovation, but this year's class was the first to do it successfully.

Guided by Miss McCoy, the class officers have performed valuable services to the school, especially during the March of Dimes and the Community Fund drives. The names of these four juniors who have taken the lead in making the junior year memorable are as follows:

*President, DONALD KEAY
Vice President, PATRICIA CASEY
Secretary, SARAH MARTIN
Treasurer, ALVIN CLIFFORD*

Junior Class

girl club

Service? Ask the Girls' Club! There's always a busy group of senior girls making gay party favors for Veterans' hospitals, supervising the school's Thanksgiving and Christmas contributions to the Welfare League, or campaigning for some worthwhile thing which will improve the school. Auditorium and cafeteria cleanup campaigns, neater clothes campaigns, no-combing-in-class campaigns—all have been successfully waged by the Girls' Club.

Social Activities? Ask the Girls' Club again! At the hot dog roast we had so much fun that we forgot we had eaten too many of the delicious weiners. The club planned a splash party to which all seniors were invited. Roller skating parties and sleighrides are other forms of entertainment that the Girls' Club provides. Near the top of the important social activities' list was the club's semi-formal dance, "Cupid's Beau." The Mother's Tea and Style Show is always held in June.

"Fun and Service" is the Girls' Club motto. Fun and Service are combined in the Christmas play and the Red Cross benefit show, which, presented by the Girls' Club, have become traditional at North.

Service? Social Activities? Fun? Any senior girl who is looking for these three important aspects of school life should see Miss Crockett, who guides the Senior Girls' Club through each successful year.

Athletics

Sweeney bounds off to the right—hesitates—“Go!” Barrett snaps the ball back to Burke. Lindbom races straight out. Burke, fading back, lets the pigskin go with a quick flip of the arm. Suddenly, out of nowhere, a blur of red and black leaps up, snatches the spiraling ball from the air and speeds toward the goal. Touchdown! The crowd goes wild!

Again and again similar spectacles were repeated in the fall of '45. The end-of-season score was 7 won, 1 lost, 1 tied. North was runner-up in the Class C championship, losing by only .32 of a point.

Members of this outstanding first team were Dave Burke, halfback and captain; Bill Walsh, fullback; Hank Fisher, end; Bob Gallagher, tackle—all veterans from the '44 squad. Lloyd Carroll, a capable junior took the end slot; Paul Kennedy was at tackle and Frannie Barrett at center. Bill Robertson was at guard;

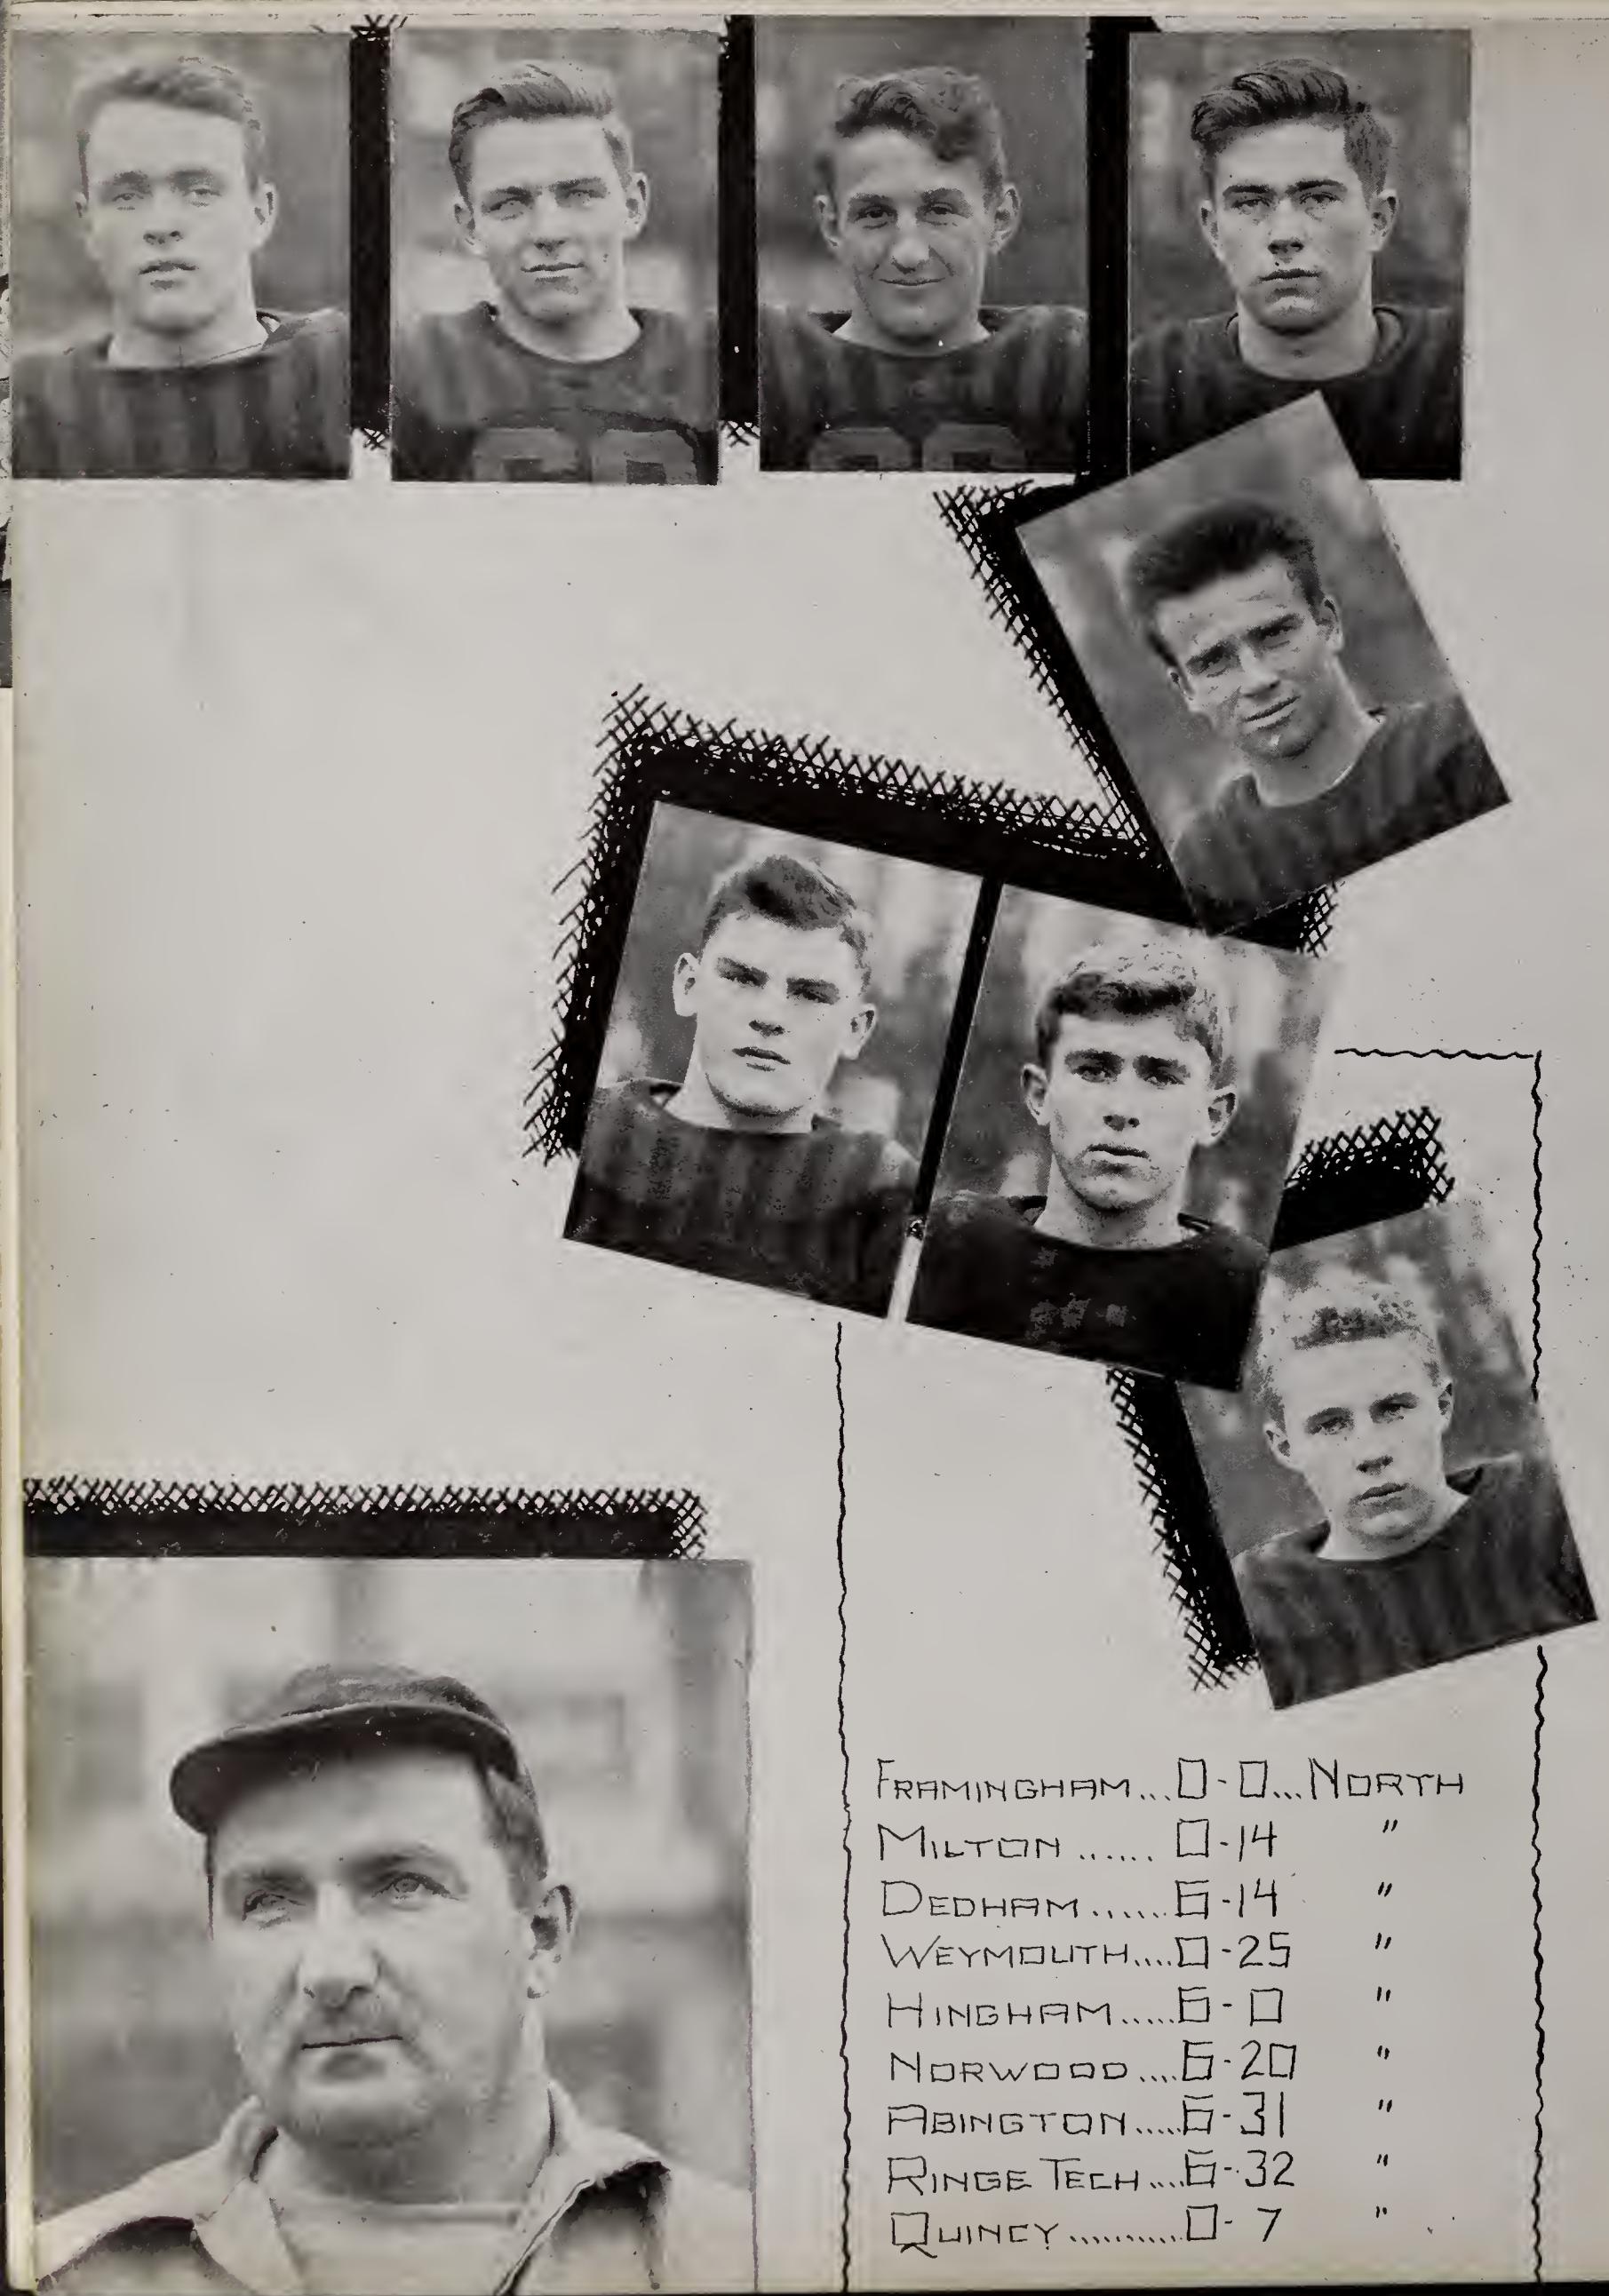

Fred Wilkinson at end; and Leo Luchini and Ed Sweeney filled in the backfield. Others playing frequently were Bill Reid, tackle; Bruce Lindbom, back; Ed Smith, tackle; and Jack Bowen, quarterback.

We started off with Framingham, where we met stiff opposition. After two hours of attacking defending we only pulled a tie. Next we slid over Milton for a 14-0 score. At Dedham we won 14-6 and at Weymouth 25-0. Then, a bit over-confident, we went after Hingham, whose effective defense helped them nose us out with a 6-0 lead. After that we bore down for a long winning streak—Abington 31-6; Norwood 20-6; Rindge Tech 32-6.

Then there was only one game—the big game—left. Quincy had a strong squad this year; the final clash promised to be an evenly matched battle. Finally Thanksgiving Day rolled around—or should we say poured in. A torrential rain had made the field a quagmire, but early in the morning loyal rooters began to fill the stands. By 10:30 the stands were filled with wet, cold spectators, who used blankets, newspapers, and umbrellas as partial shelter from the downpour. Meanwhile the players lined up on the field. The whistle blew. Eleven Red Raiders charged down the muddy field. Luchini kicked the slippery ball into the air. End over end it sailed toward the Quincy team. Striking a Quincy player, it bounded over the goal line. Burke, galloping through the mud, fell on the ball. There were a few seconds of doubt. Everything had happened so quickly that the spectators were momentarily bewildered. Then somebody began to shout and soon the North stands resounded with a roar of joy. "Touchdown!" Walsh rushed for the point, made it, and the score stood at 7-0. On the opening kick-off we had won our most important game on a play which one hears about but very seldom sees. City champs for another year!

Score totals for the end of the season were North 143, opponents 30.

North's basketball team, under the direction of Mr. Mullarkey, closed a better than average season with a record of 10 wins and 6 losses. The team started poorly by losing first to Quincy and then to Braintree by narrow margins. After dropping these two heartbreakers, the team went on a winning spree, defeating Hingham, Weymouth, Abington, Northbridge (twice), and Malden; in a second game with Weymouth, however, North lost by a single basket. Temporarily regaining the win trail by defeating Hingham, the team lost it again in two successive upsets, one by Braintree, one by Brockton. However, in the next game they made amends for the opening setback, defeating Quincy in another close game. Abington succumbed again by a huge score; then, after losing to Newton,

North defeated a highly favored Brockton team to end the season on a note of triumph.

Coach Mullarkey had a difficult time developing a practiced team at the beginning of the year. The only two veterans were Dave Burke, who became the mainstay of the team and was elected Captain; and Bill Reid, who was out most of the year nursing an injury.

A senior who made the first team in his first year out was Bill Cahill, who played center and did an excellent job under the basket. Another senior was Fred Wilkenson, a guard, who was on the court for the first time since junior high days. Improving steadily in all games, he made a perfect pair with Cedrone in the back court. Cid Cedrone, who broke the schoolboy record of 31 points per game with a high of 35 points, is a junior. The fifth place on the team was divided among three players. Richie Sullivan, a sophomore, was first choice at the beginning of the year. He yielded to Harry Collins, a junior, who gave the place in turn to junior, Buddy Barrett, whose excellent play earned him the first string position for the rest of the year. Two other men on the first squad were Eddie Sweeney and Phil Gillis.

With these juniors and a sophomore returning next year from this year's fast playing team, North can look forward to more invitations to the Tech Tournament in the future.

CHEERLENDERSOO

You can't miss these pert, peppy girls who have done so much to arouse our much-publicized fine school spirit. One look at their smiling faces and your spirits, as well as your voices, begin to soar. They have proven themselves super-sales-women by selling tickets for athletic banquets, and those booster tags so much in evidence testify to their persuasive powers in furthering a worthy cause.

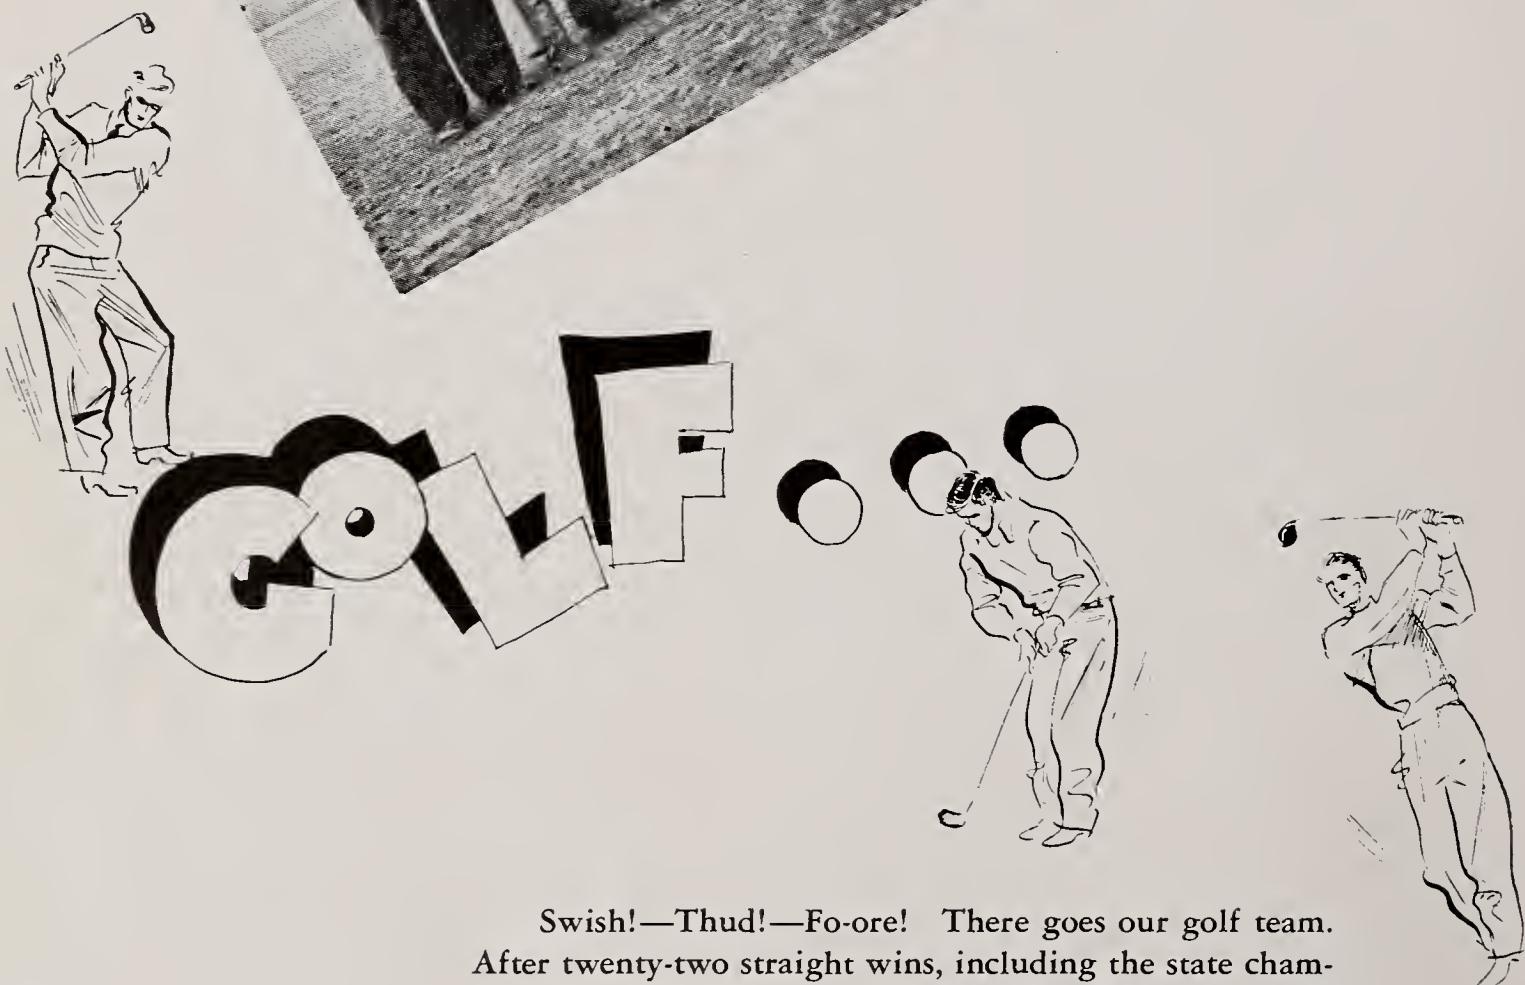

Who are they? Well, there's Head Cheerleader Audrey Wright and her associates Joan Meade, Peggy Keith, Doris Desmond, Carol Peterson, Pat Casey, Claire Gallagher, and Shirley Murnane. Under Coach Harold F. Forest's able direction, they have become a well-drilled team whose appearance at the football and basketball games has brought forth "ohs" and "ahs" of admiration from supporters and opponents alike.

The cheerleaders' first public appearance is always at the rally in the assembly hall on the day before the first football game. On September 21, this year, the girls opened the season by introducing a revised "Ve-vo" cheer, a new, short "N. Q. H. S." cheer, and a variation of the "Victory" cheer. At every football game thereafter they were on hand to inspire team and spectators alike with sparkling routines. Before Thanksgiving Day there was another rally, for which the girls had worked out a tumbling and pyramid exhibition. Another major rally was the one before the first basketball game of the year. For this rally and for the rest of the basketball season the girls wore new uniforms which were distinguished by long sleeved, turtleneck blouses. Decorations for these uniforms were the silver megaphone pins received by North's cheerleaders at the football banquet.

Rain or shine, win or lose, these girls chase away the blues—and help to maintain North's reputation for good-sportsmanship and that never-say-die spirit.

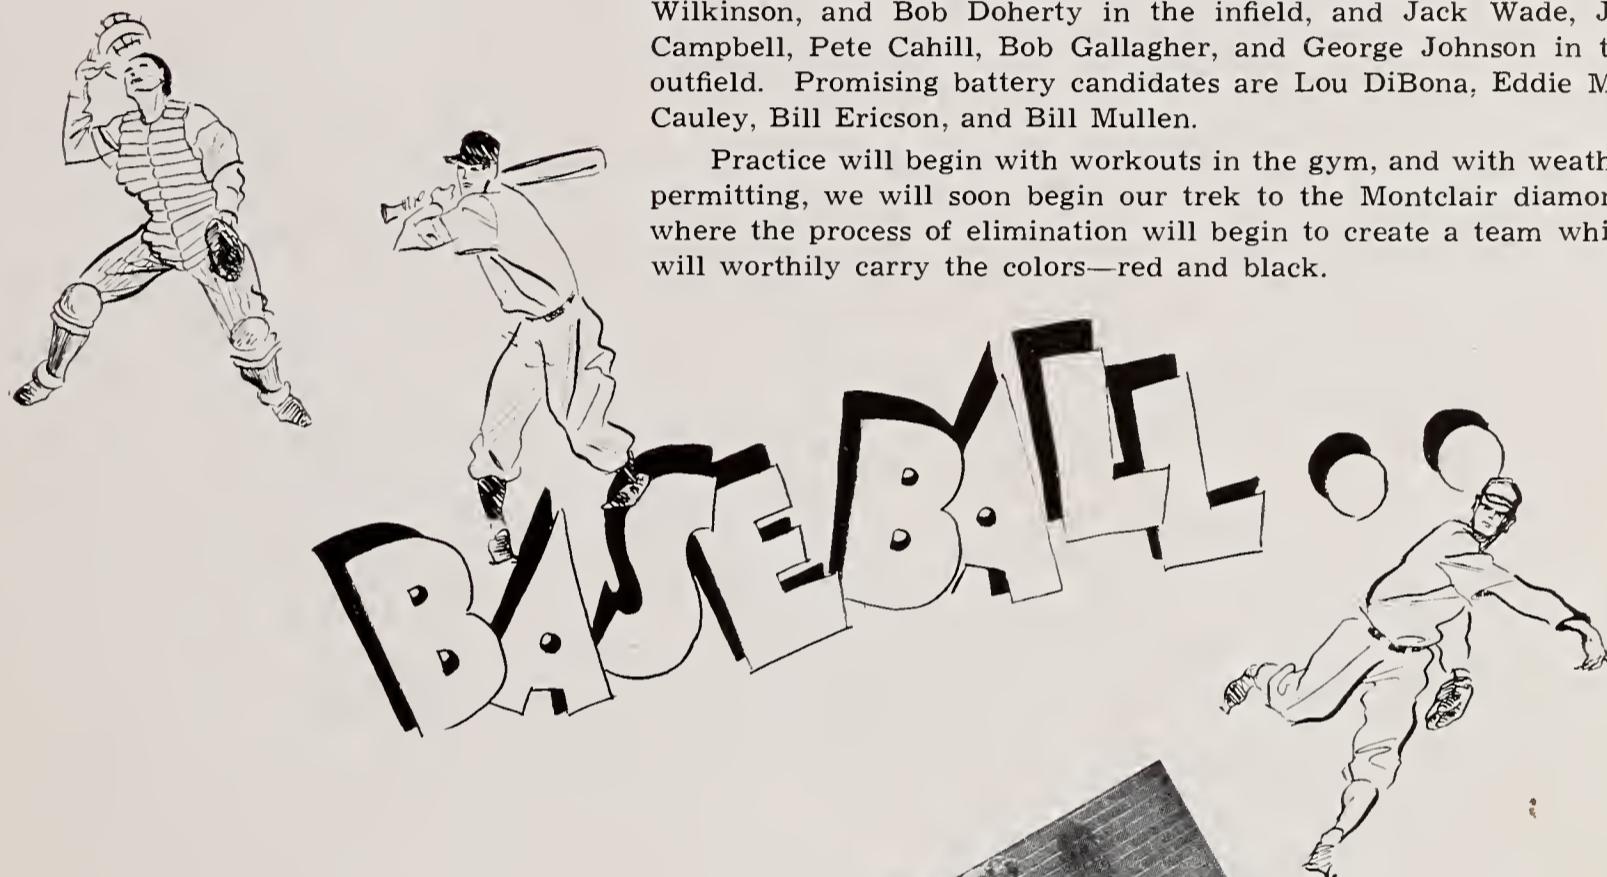

Swish!—Thud!—Fo-ore! There goes our golf team. After twenty-two straight wins, including the state championship, North finally was defeated last year in a match which cost them the championship of the Norfolk County League.

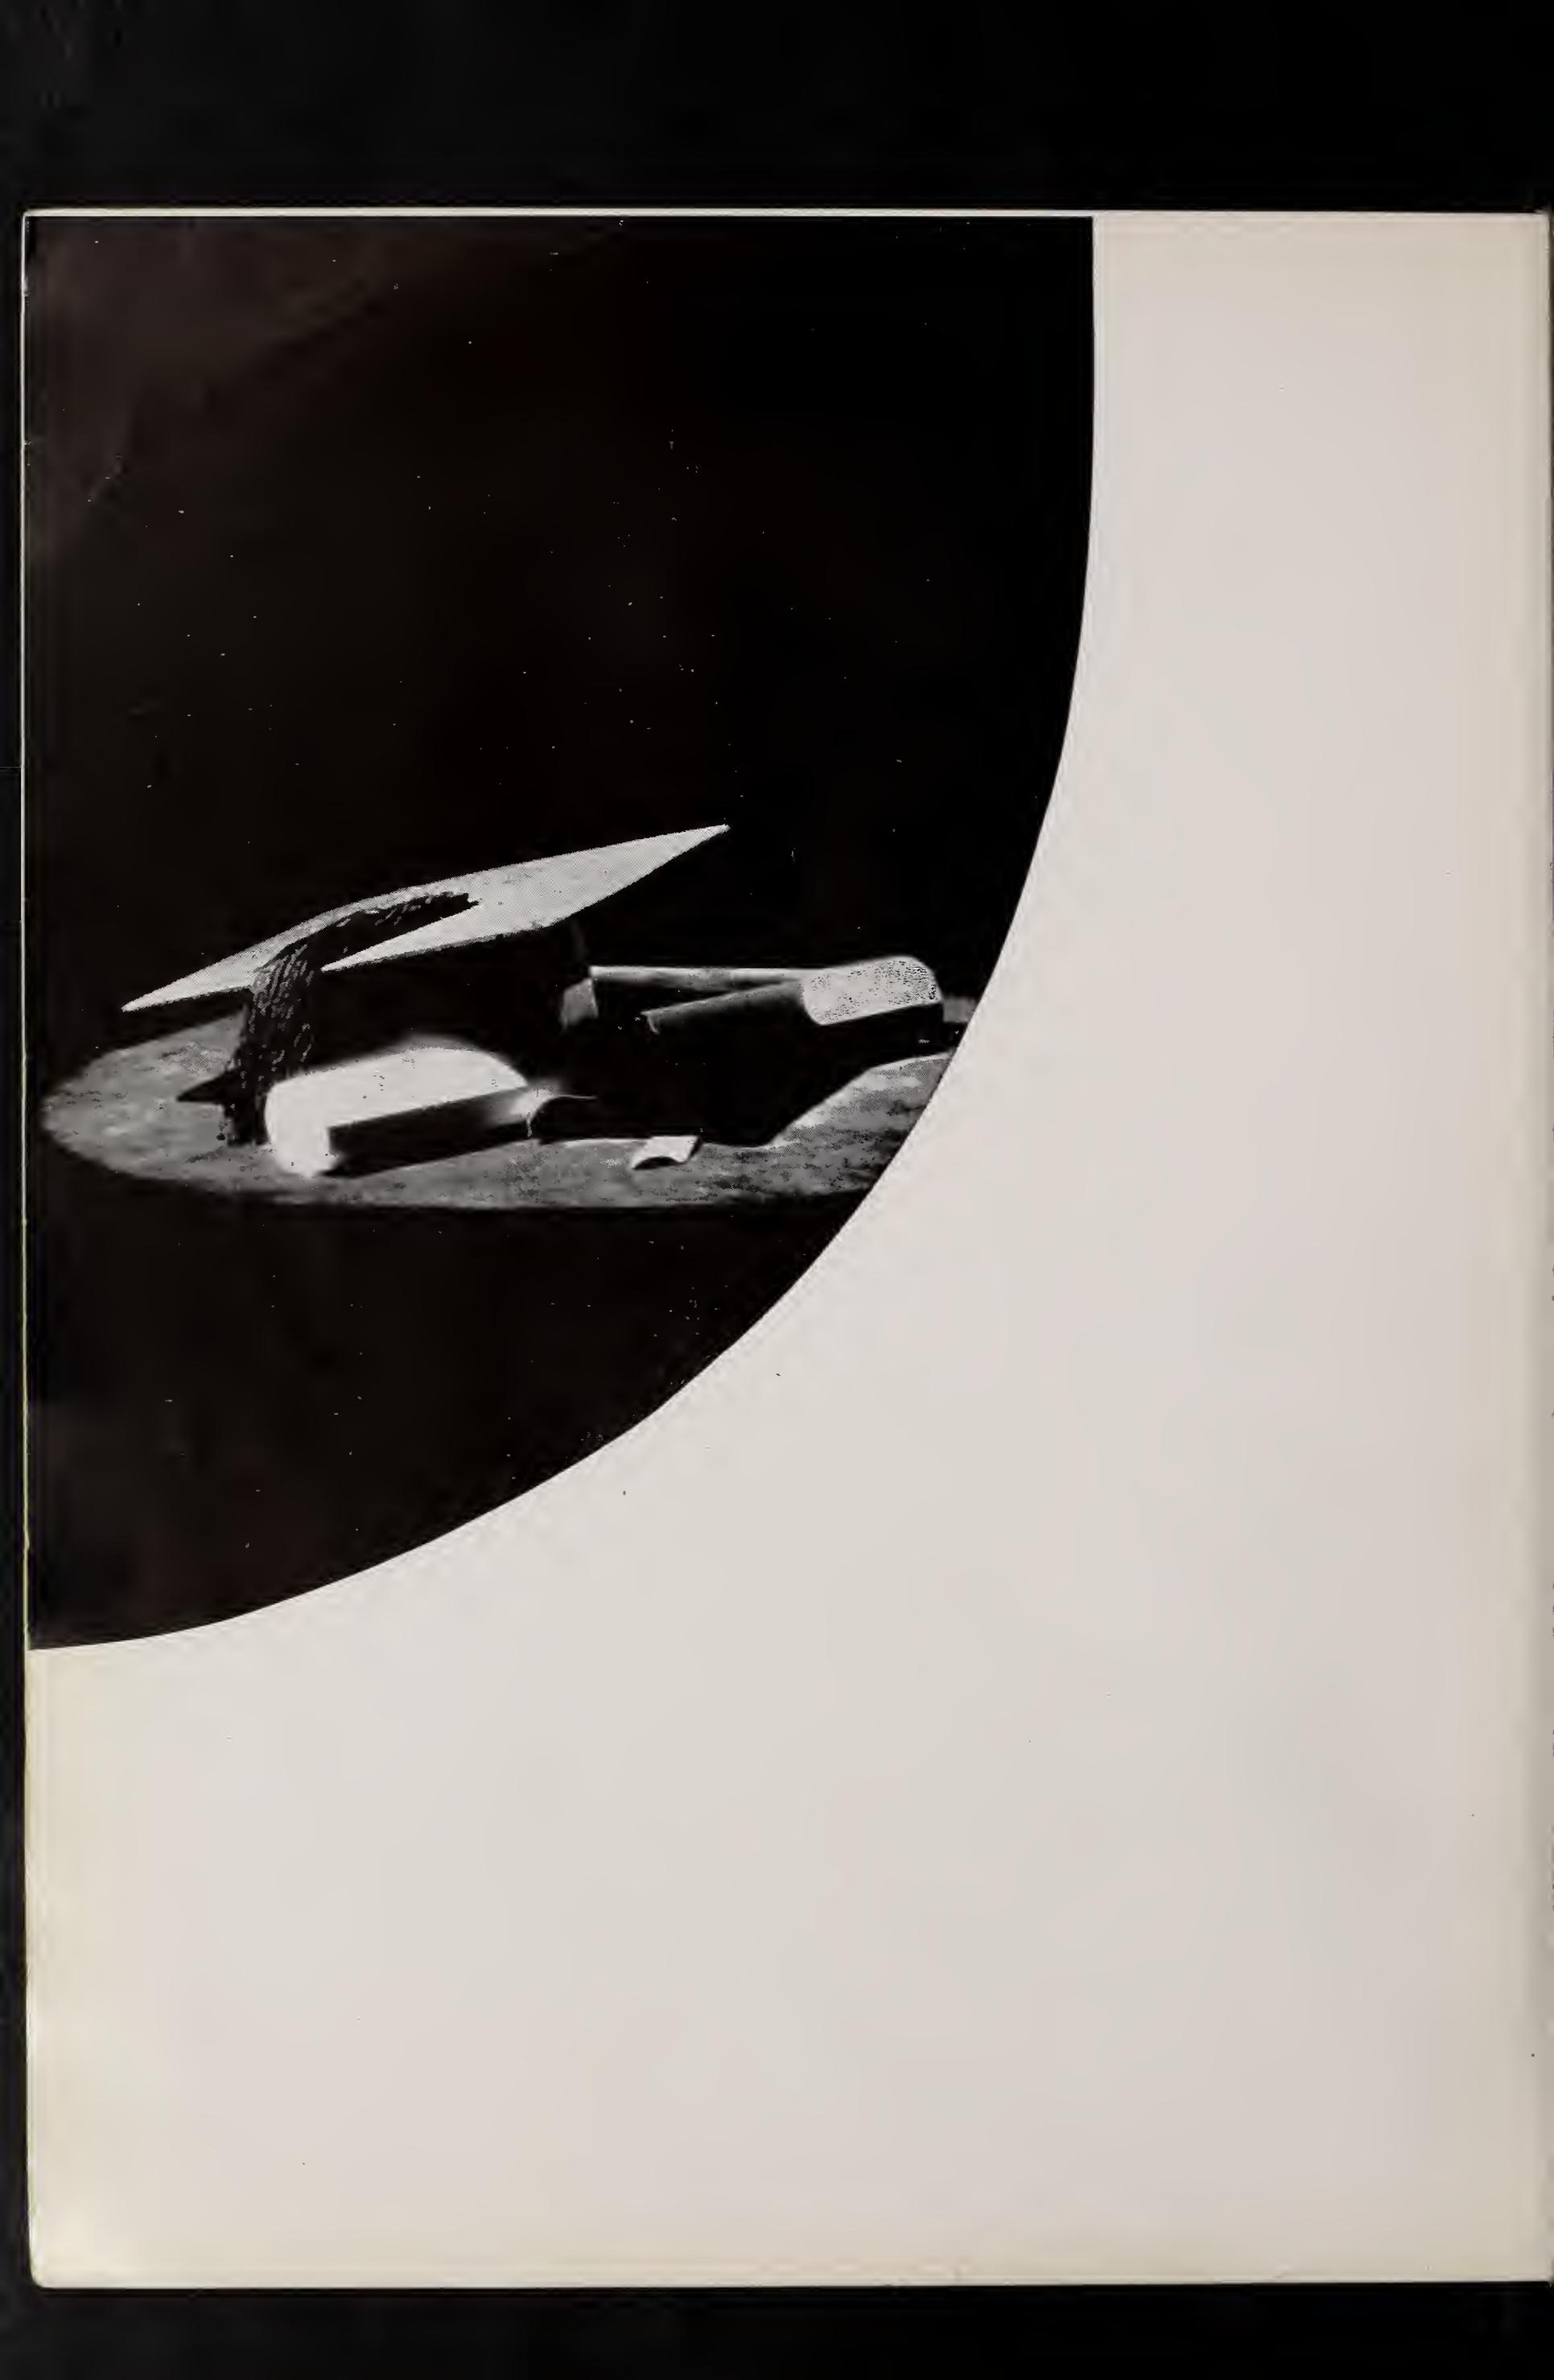

And returning this year is an all veteran team—the same near champions of last season. There's Denny Morrissey, Bill Robertson, Bob O'Neill, Don Meehan, Ford Pitts, Russ Hendrickson, Al Rogers, and Bill Richards. Here's for the best season we've had! Fill in the scores yourself.

When temperatures begin to climb and buds burst forth on the trees, thoughts turn toward the spring sport—baseball. Graduation of last year has taken from us such dependables as Dicky Donovan, Skippy Jones, Frannie Bean, Dick Wheeler, Jack White and Joey Creedon. This leaves us with one veteran in the infield, Dave Burke, and a battery consisting of Bill Walsh, Bob Murphy, and Hank Fisher.

Looking forward, we decide that this will be a year of moulding a team for the future. Probable prospects for positions now open are Bruce Lindbom, Dick Kenny, Jed Donovan, Eddie Sweeney, Fred Wilkinson, and Bob Doherty in the infield, and Jack Wade, Joe Campbell, Pete Cahill, Bob Gallagher, and George Johnson in the outfield. Promising battery candidates are Lou DiBona, Eddie McCauley, Bill Ericson, and Bill Mullen.

Practice will begin with workouts in the gym, and with weather permitting, we will soon begin our trek to the Montclair diamond, where the process of elimination will begin to create a team which will worthily carry the colors—red and black.

Class

1940-43 The traffic officer's stately height
Used to fill us all with awe.
When we were young (in Junior High)
His slightest word was law.

1943-44 And then we entered Senior High
Swelled up with pride and joy
For we were "man" and "woman" now—
Not just "girl" and "boy."

1944-45 As still more grown-up Juniors
We planned activities galore.
We entered into social life
As we never had before.

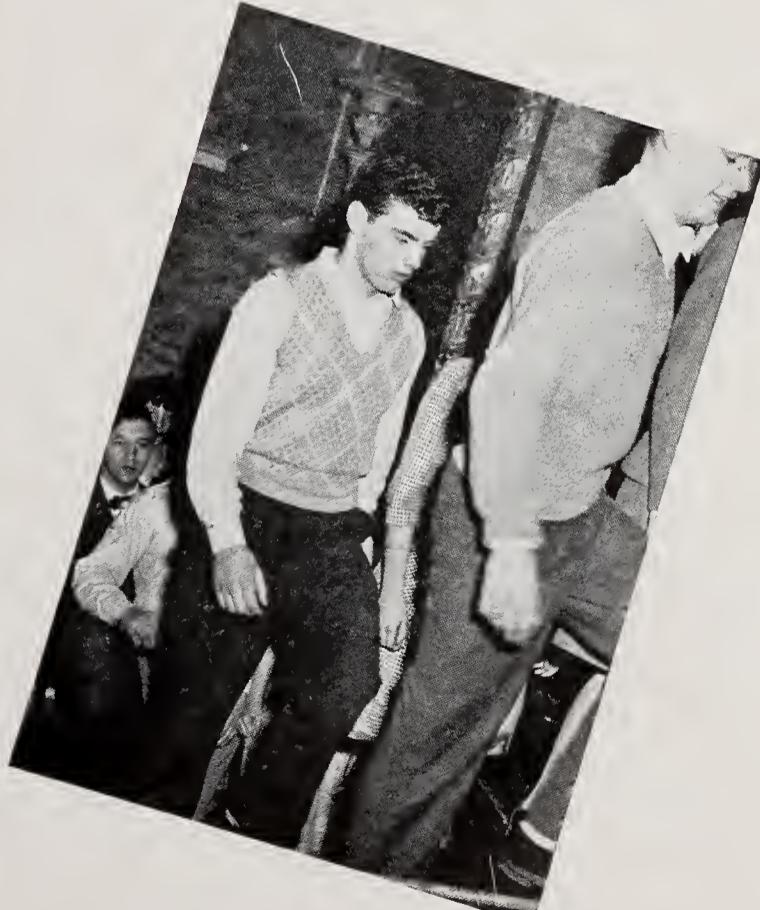

History

1945-46 A senior's life, we quickly found,
Is anything but luxurious.
For final tests and stiff exams
We studied fast and furious.

1945-46 But before our study-clouded minds
Reached a state of mild hysteria
We'd rest by dancing on the stage
After lunch in the cafeteria.

1945-46 Then at last arrived the longed-for time
When, with mixed despair and elation
We squandered countless periods
Rehearsing for graduation.

TO GIRL GRADUATES OF '46

*WHO'D LIKE VITAL
"human interest" WORK*

For girls who are looking beyond graduation to a good-paying job that's full of "human interest," here's an opportunity worth investigating.

The Telephone Company has several openings for girls finishing high school. Recent high school graduates who've become telephone girls find the work interesting; associates friendly; surroundings pleasant.

Seniors should look into this opportunity. Training courses may be arranged so as not to interfere with studies or graduation, and can usually be given right in the home town. Sign up right away and receive pay while learning.

Your teacher or vocational advisor can tell you more about work in this interesting industry.
